To whom it may concern,

This letter might be treated as a personal recommendation for Gau Meng Yew. Meng Yew was a Strategy Analyst Intern with Pufferfish Partners for an approximate seven-month period. During his tenure, he was exposed to multiple business functions, having supported client projects, assisted in market research and data collection, and business development.

Throughout his internship at Pufferfish Partners, Meng Yew demonstrated keen analytical skills and an aptitude for using programmatic tools and software to assist in business functions. He was a key member of project teams, and his ability to work effectively in a team under tight deadlines and pressure enabled him to generate value throughout his time at Pufferfish Partners.

Meng Yew exhibited intrinsic motivation and was open to trying out various business functions beyond his job scope, having helped create communication assets for social media and polishing his technical skills by developing Python tools to assist in project research. Meng Yew also worked on his creativity and presentation skills by working on various slide decks for client presentations.

Outside of work, Meng Yew has a friendly and outgoing personality. He forged strong bonds with his colleagues and peers at Pufferfish Partners, positively adding to the culture throughout his tenure.

Keeping that in mind, Meng Yew has great potential, and would indubitably be an asset to your company.
